The wind blew across the exposition grounds yesterday at the rate of thirty miles an hour, but did not prevent the peoin goodly numbers, where they remained lights had been turned out. It was apparently a new crowd and as the weather out of doors was not as mild as during the average autumn day in Nebraska, most of those tire time to examining the exhibits, hurrying from one building to another.

There was no crush upon the grounds, but alone that was the attraction. In the evenbe quite strong magnets, as well as delightfully entertaining to the city people, as well as the strangers who were upor the grounds for the first time.

The Georgia and the Missouri editors were upon the grounds during the evening, a couple of hundred strong, and found much to amuse them. From a casual observation they pronounced the exposition first class and added that they were convinced that they will be better pleased with it when they come to see it by daylight today.

The preliminaries for the proper observance of Georgia day were completed yesterday and everything is ready for the visitors who will visit the grounds in a body this morning. Many of the Georgia people arrived yesterday and were upon the grounds, being recognizable by the button or badge which they have adopted. It is a circular button, suspended from a brass bar by a It is the single word, "Georgia." There was ves with the grounds and the loca-

In addition to this, it is Old Settlers' day, an occasion when many of the early residents of this and adjoining states will gather and exchange greetings and talk over the days of pioneer life in the west. The old settlers will not have a program. but will observe the occasion in a very informal way. Their headquarters will be at the Nebraska building on the Bluff tract. the evening there will be the usual band concert on the Plaza, with a series of stereopticon views, showing pictures of noted Americans who have had much to do with cementing the friendly feeling that exists between the north and the south. In addition to this, there will be fireworks on the North tract, one of the set pieces being the governor of Georgia in fire

Saturday promises to be one of the big days of the exposition, as it is the occasion when the grounds will be turned over to the contingent from Chicago. The Chicagoaus will begin to arrive tonight, the balence coming early Saturday morning. the grounds there will be exercises in The Auditorium and a reception at the Illineis building during the afternoon and evening. For their entertainment there will be a balloon ascension Saturday afternoon, providing there is not a high wind, an Indian battle between the Stoux and the allied tribes and a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

BAND CONCERT PLANS FOR TODAY. Innes Will Produce His Wagnerian

Program on the Plaza. Innes had another big matinee yesterday and the biggest audience for a night without some unusual big special feature since the exposition opened. The programs were of the usually high class order and the scenes of the four previous days were reenacted. Unstinted praise followed almost worth more than a passing word. It is a wonderful undertaking for a band of brass and reed, but there is every assurance that Innes will do it full justice. His masterful handling of Wagner's greatest overture, "Tannhaeuser." last Tuesday night sets all doubt at rest about the result. Friday night of each week was known as "Wagnerian night" at Innes' Philadelphia concerts sunimer before last, and at his Nashville exposition concerts last summer and they were decidedly society events. The smart set used to be out in force and what are cailed "pretty audiences" were a rule. But the recognition of Philadelphia and New York, which have the most whimsical critics on earth, was not needed, and as a matter of fact it was late it coming to establish the fact that a band of wind instruments had come before the public with Wagner's complete repertory and played it so as to owe no apology to that master. linnes had done it on the read for three years before the good people of Philadelphia and New York had an opportunity to hear and pass judgment. So it was a little amusing to read an extract from a little paper published in a Philadelphia suburb chiding Innes for not coming back there this fall instead of coquetting with the western publie at the Transmississippi Exposition, and adding that it was Philadelphia who discovered Innes. The metropolitan press of Phil adelphia was good encugn to give Innes full credit for his work without requiring him

He organized it just eleven years ago and before any other well known bandmaster to meet the residents of this city, who are had begun, though it was not until four years ago that he introduced those innovations which have unquestionably ushered in new era of band music.

In consequence of the tremendous demand upon the electrical department of the exposition in connection with the preparations necessary for Chicago day, it has been decided to postpone until some day next week the giving of the spectacular anvil scene and electrical cannon accompaniment announced for Saturday night. A carefully prepared program has been arranged for afternoon and night, which will be laid out upon the same lines which governed the formation of last Sunday's program, which met the universal commendation of church-

Some of the Formalities that Will Be Observed During Chicago Day. Major Hambleton of the Illinois building The Wagnerian festival for tonight is that Chicago day is to be one of the big features of the exposition. As everybody knows, it will be observed Saturday and the exercises will be participated in by Chicago marching clubs, trade organizations and citizen generally. Most of the trains bearing the visitors will arrive tonight, though it is possible that some of them will not get in until this morning. While it is not the intention to have a big parade, Major Hambleton says there will be something of the kind. It will form at Fourteenth and Farnam streets at about 10 o'clock, where carriages will be in readiness to carry the speakers and many of the guests to the Sherman avenue entrance of the grounds. Arriving there the carriages will he dismissed and everybody will proceed to the Auditorium, where the exercises will be held at 11 o'clock, E. S. Conway, first vice president of the Illinois commission, presiding. The exercises will be opened by prayer, after which President Wattles of the exposition will deliver the address of welcome. He will be followed by Mayor Harrison of Chicago, who will speak upon the subject "Chicago." After this Mayor Moores will tender the visitors the freedom of the city and will turn over to Mayor Harrison

Secretary of War Has a Plan for Combining Systems of Regimental and Division Hospitals.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.-Important results are likely to follow the extensive tour of inspection of the military camps just completed by Secretary Alger and especially in the matter of reorganizing the hospital service in the field. (Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Sept. 29 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-The commis sioners of both countries met today for the first time at a dinner given by Foreign Minister Delcasse in the small breakfast room at Qual d'Orsay. The invitations wer sent to each commissioner personally and there was no intimation that they would meet the Spaniards. Senators Gray, Frye and Mr. Reid responded in French, the remainder in English. President Faure was represented by Le Gall, chief aide-de-camp at the Elysee, and by Crozier, introducer of the ambassadors. The French ministry was represented by Henri Brisson, premier, who was vis-a-vis at the table to the foreign minister. Dinner began at 1 o'clock and ended at 3, the members of both commissions being intermingled. Conversation was confined strictly to social topics. After din ner the party broke up in smoking groups. Whitelaw Reid was seen subsequently and said: "It was quite an informal meeting t bring us together. We were courteous and so were they. Castillo and I were old friends and eight years ago were colleagues here in Paris. No business of any sort was transacted. We will meet in accordance with the protocol Saturday, probably in the afteroon. The Spanish commissioners have been instructed by the council of ministers at Madrid to make the entire evacuation of the Philippines their fundamental article and to insist that the occupation of Manila is only a temporary guaranty that the rest of the protocol shall be carried out." There were in all twenty-six guests. Del-

Act as Escort to the President. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- (Special Telegram.)-President McKinley has extended the scope of his trip west to include Indianapolis and Terre Haute. While this will not interfere with his Omaha date, it considerably changes his arrangements as outlined by Assistant Secretary George B. Cortelyou, with whom W. N. Babcock, manager of the Transportation department of the exposition, had a long interview this afternoon.

The president's train, which will carry the chief executive, Mrs. McKinley and his abinet, will leave Washington about 10 o'clock on the morning of October 10, over the Pennsylvania line. At Chicago the party will be joined by Colonel and Mrs. Lapicture when I returned to the United fayette McWilliams, who will accompany States. I know you will be glad to get it, the train to Omaha by the Northwestern. Two or three stops will be made in Iowa, fully in paper and carried it in my shirt the presidential train arriving in Omaha pocket from July 3 to September 19. Přease about 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, October 11. The president will be in hearty sympathy with the program arranged by the exposition managers for October 12 and will respond to the address of welcome with a short speech.

On the morning of October 13 he will leave for St. Louis via the Burlington, running as far as Burlington on fair schedule time, making two or three stops of about twenty minutes each. From Burlington the running time will be lengthened to St. Louis e accommodate Mrs. McKinley, who is not the best traveler in the world, owing to her iliness. From St. Louis the president will go to Chicago, where he will remain over Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of the week beginning October 16, as guests of Colonel and Mrs. McWilliams. On Wednesday, October 19, he will leave for Indianapolis and Terre Haute, arriving at Wash-
